Help JAXPORT celebrate a special milestone in 2013

It's Our Golden Anniversary!

Although use of Jacksonville’s port dates back to at least 1565 when the first act of international waterborne commerce in the New World was recorded here, the Jacksonville Port Authority was created by a special act of the Florida Legislature in 1963 to develop, maintain and market port facilities.

Throughout 2013, JAXPORT will honor the past hard work helped ensure the success that we enjoy today and look ahead to our bright future. As we gear up to recognize the port's progress and growth in the last 50 years, we hope you’ll take a moment to share your memories.

Please send us your port-related photos and stories for use in our publications, online and through our social media during 2013. Originals will not be returned.

Submit items to us before midnight, December 3, 2012 and you’ll be entered to win a limited-edition framed version of the photo “Sunrise at the Port” pictured at the top of this page.

Thank you for being a part of our past, present and especially our future. With your help, we’re not only fabulous at 50, we are charting the course to bring another half century of benefit to North Florida and beyond.
